Go Orange with Us in April for Work Zone Safety Awareness Month

A month-long campaign launched in April by the Maryland Department of Transportation (MDOT) focuses on workplace safety in work zones.

The MDOT SHA Office of Communications and the Maryland State Highway Administration (MDOT SHA) announced the launch of the Work Zone Safety Awareness Month on April 1. This month-long campaign encourages drivers and workers to focus, slow down, and stay alert while driving through work zones.

MDOT SHA’s Director of Transportation Operations, Larry Hogan, expressed his gratitude for the roadway workers and urged motorists to join the efforts to ensure their safety. He emphasized the importance of acknowledging the hard work and dedication of the roadway workers.

Office of Communications Launches Daily Work Zone Safety Messages

The Office of Communications is publishing daily work zone safety messages on social media platforms. These messages serve as a reminder to motorists to be aware of their surroundings and drive safely.

Additionally, the Office of Communications is posting daily work zone safety messages on social media platforms, reminding motorists to focus, slow down, and stay alert.

The campaign aims to raise awareness about the importance of work zone safety and to encourage drivers to be more considerate of the workers on the road.

College of Work Zone Safety Awareness Month

April is National Work Zone Awareness Month, and MDOT SHA launched a safety campaign in April. The campaign focuses on highlighting the importance of safety in work zones and encouraging drivers to be more aware of their surroundings.

The campaign features daily work zone safety messages on social media platforms, reminding motorists to focus, slow down, and stay alert.

Safety in Work Zones

Safety in work zones is a crucial concern for MDOT SHA, and the department is committed to ensuring the safety of workers and drivers alike.

The campaign emphasizes the importance of being aware of work zone safety and encourages drivers to be more considerate of the workers on the road.

Conclusion

The Work Zone Safety Awareness Month campaign is aimed at raising awareness about the importance of work zone safety and encouraging drivers to be more aware of their surroundings.

MDOT SHA’s efforts to ensure the safety of workers and drivers will continue throughout the month of April, and the department encourages all motorists to join in the efforts to keep work zones safe.

For more information on work zone safety, visit the MDOT SHA website or follow the Office of Communications on social media platforms.